Dear Christopher Alexander,

dear Adriaan Gueuze,
dear Martin Rajnis,
dear Bernd Gundermann -

dear colleagues!

It is my great pleasure to declare you winners of the Global Award for Sustainable Architecture 2014.

GLOBAL AWARD FOR SUSTAINABLE ARCHITECTURE™

The scientific Jury of the LOCUS Foundation, holding the Global Award for Sustainable Architecture™ and federating its winners in participatory projects for sustainable urban renewal www.locus-foundation.org has selected you and your scientific, didactic, design and building process at its Jury Meeting February 7 2014.

The Global Award for Sustainable Architecture™ is put under the patronage of UNESCO. Please find all 40 winners since 2007 on the LOCUS website.

I look forward to knowing you personally and to follow your interventions at our Global Award Ceremony Monday May 19 2014 from 14h to 20h at the Cité de l'Architecture, Paris in presence of the UNESCO Director of Culture and the Minister of Culture of France as much as, of course, the Ambassadors of your countries.

I will come back to you in time to prepare the program, that this year is enriched by the opening of a manifesto exposition on the 40 Global Award winners "Re-enchant the world: Architecture and the City facing society's transitions" curated by Marie-Hélène Contal at the Cite de l'Architecture, Paris.

You will meet great part of your co-winners personally and be invited to take part in the exposition and its round-table discussions.

Congratulations!

Yours
Jana Revedin
