Can you see any essential difference concerning the care and attention given,not only to the overall shape,but also to the smaller entities which create it?

alternating repetition

When entities are repeated within a larger context ,there is always a second repetition which accompanys the first,alternating with it.

B-22 page 101

Repetition is the main theme in these two cases.And yet in which one of them the repeated elements are embellished by smaller clear entities which are also repetitive?
